

Pavilion Deconstruction Assembly

2025 Timber Tectonics in the Digital Age

UO &OSU

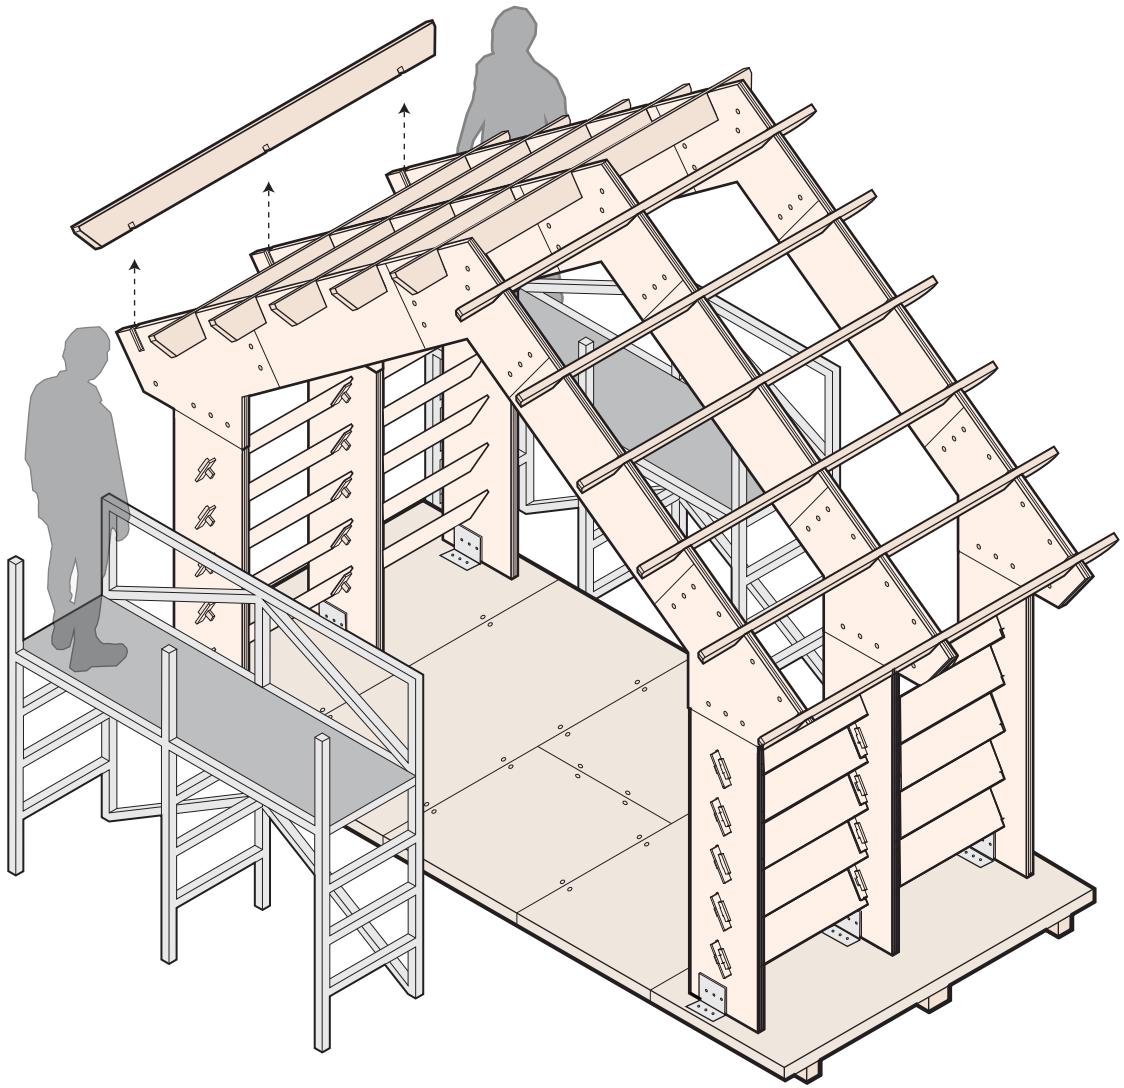

1.

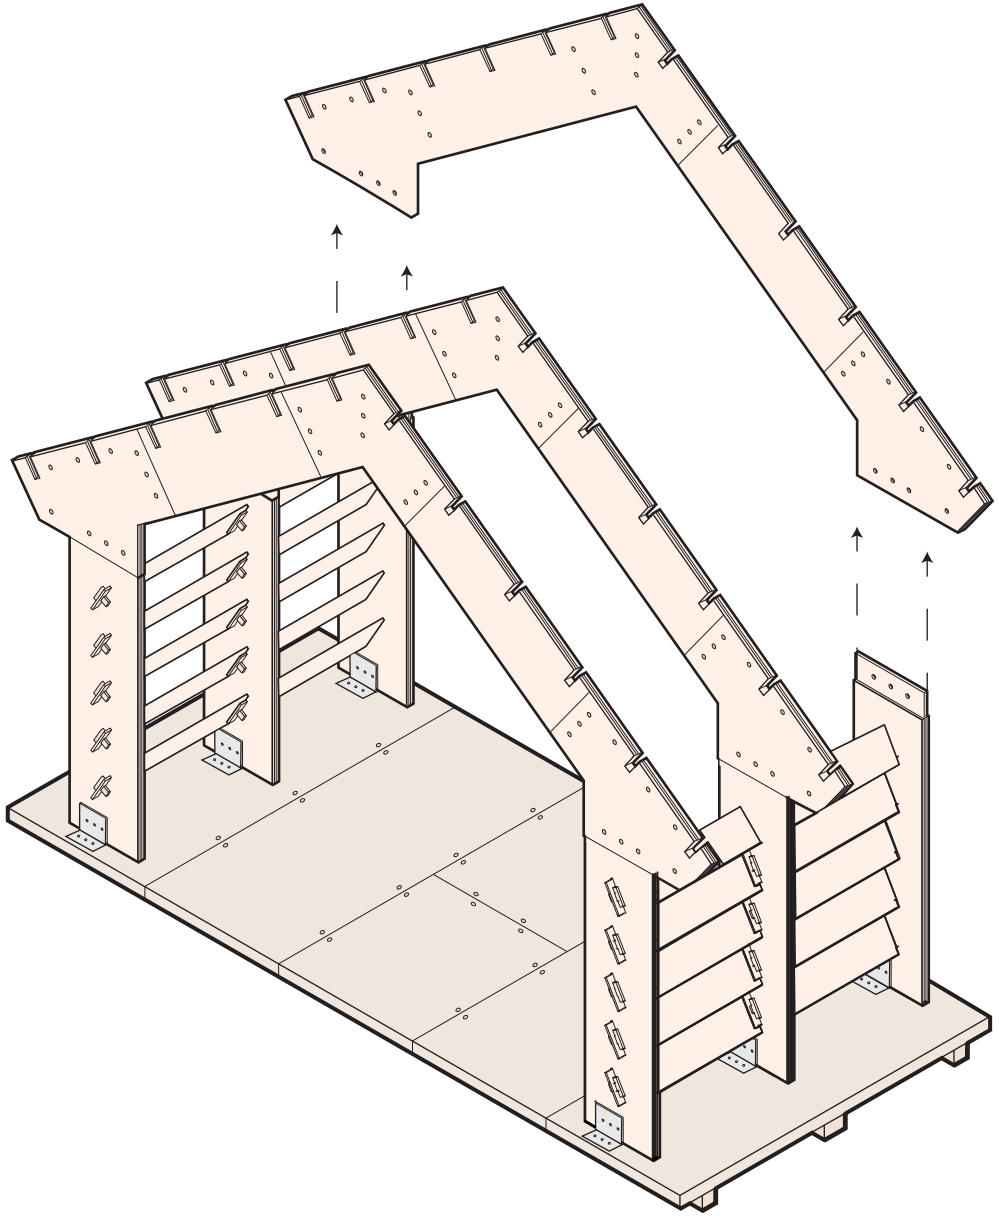

Unscrew fiberglass panels from the purlins
3 people per panel, 1 drill per panel

2.

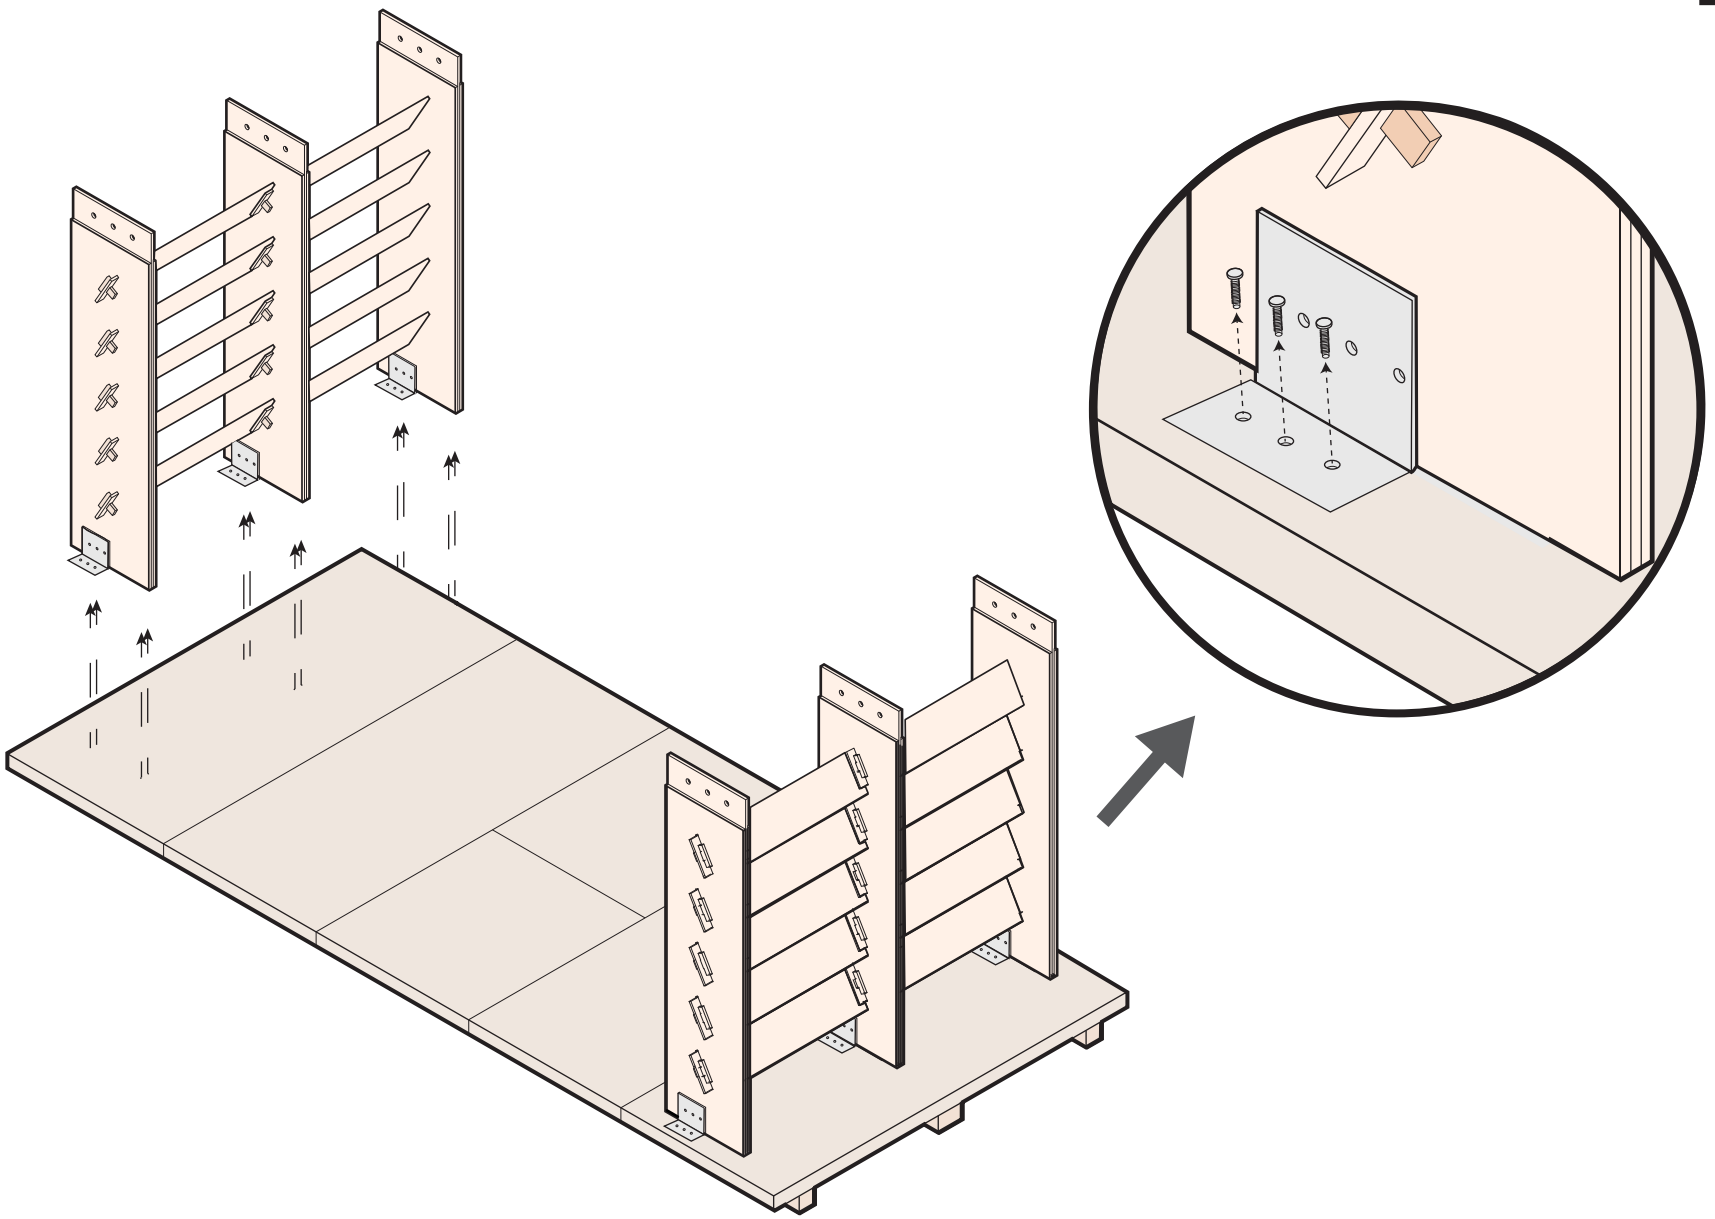

Hammer the purlins out of place, take them out and handoff to someone on the ground
3 people, 2 rubber mallets

3.

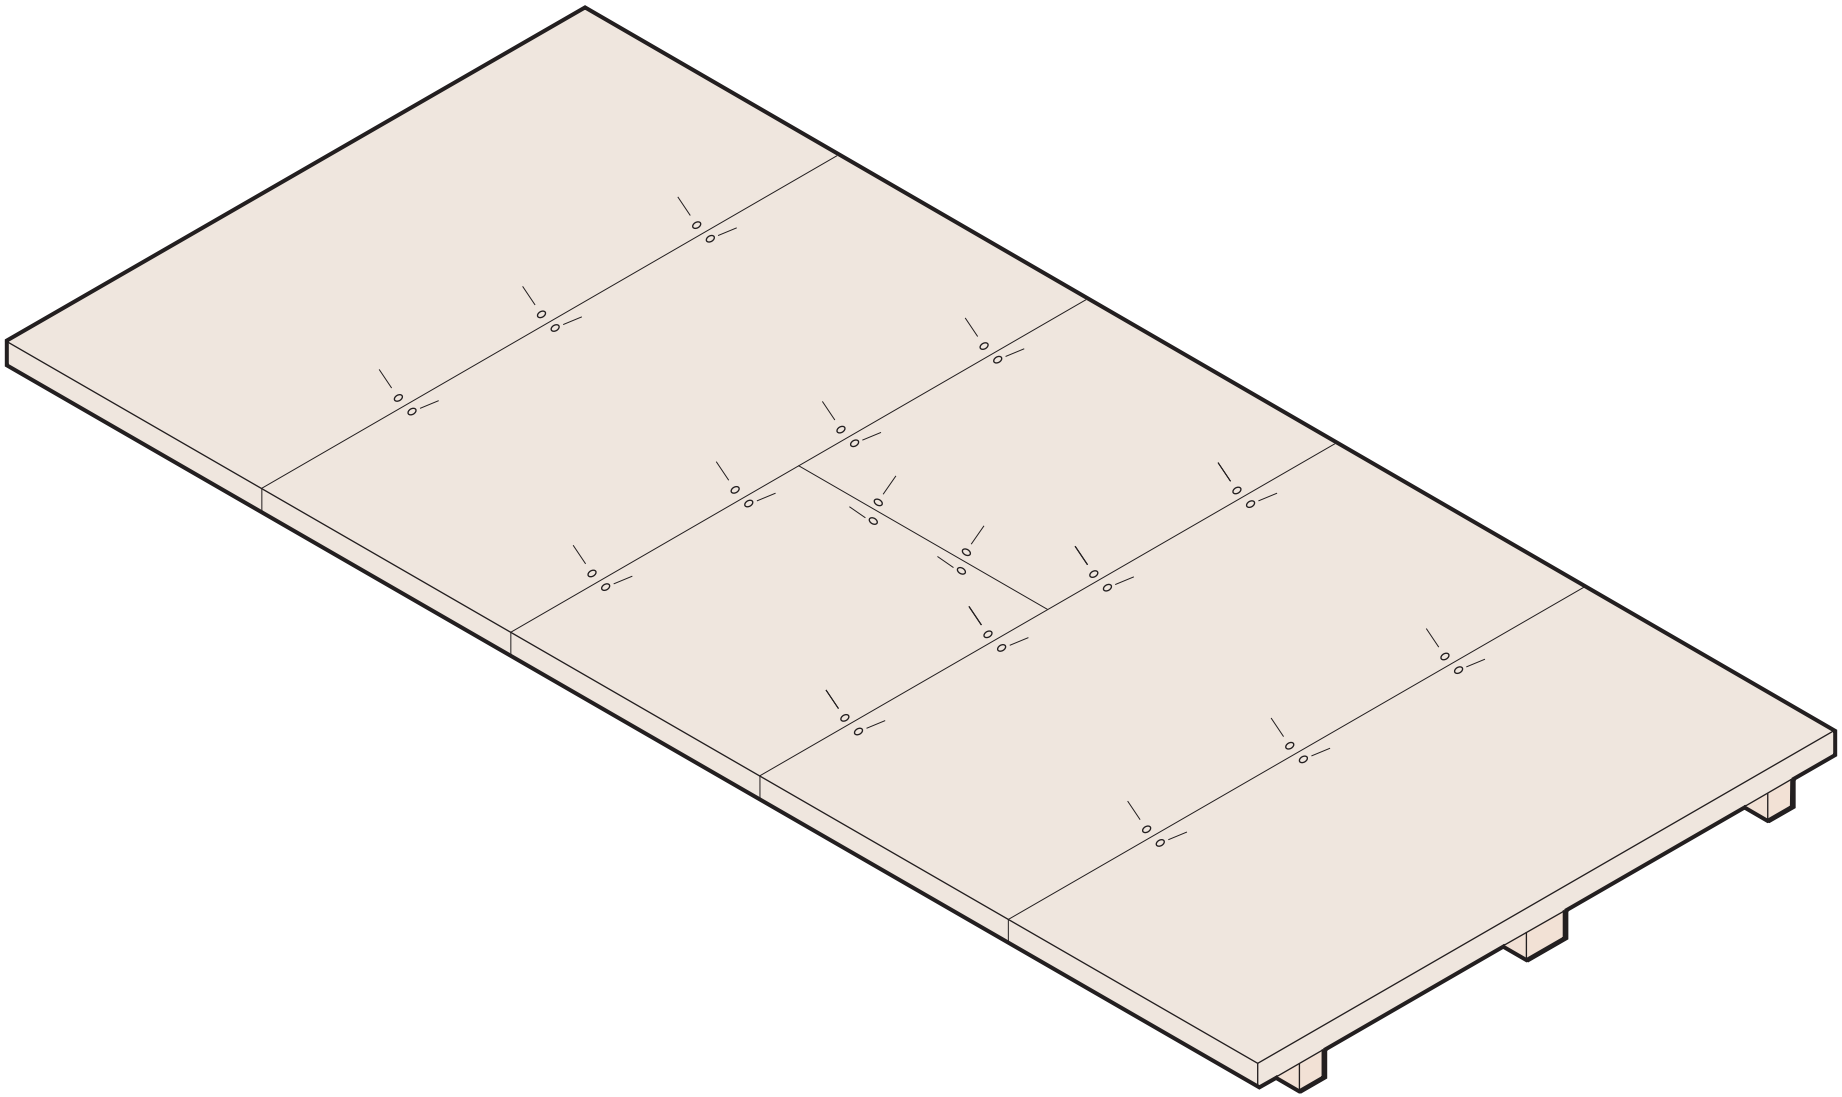

Remove the dowels from the corner joints and remove the top piece as a whole by tilting it down
4 people, 2 rubber mallets

4.

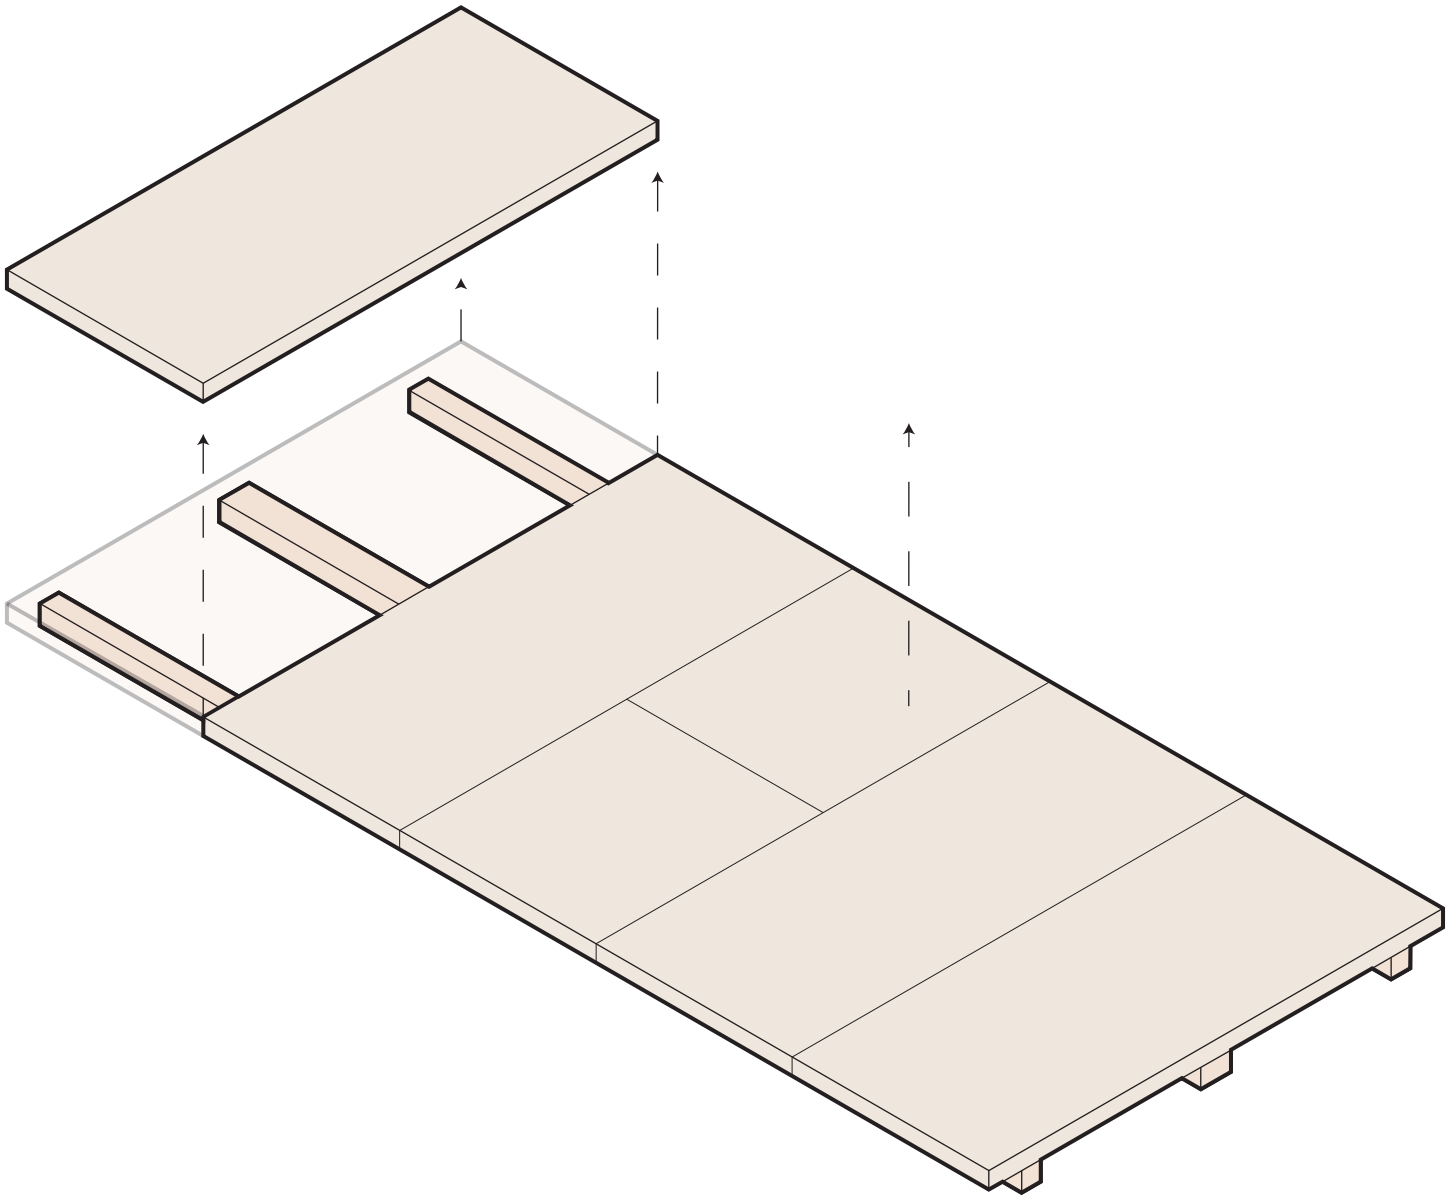

Remove the screws from bracets and remove the walls from the foundation as a whole piece 3 people per wall, 1 drill per wall

5.

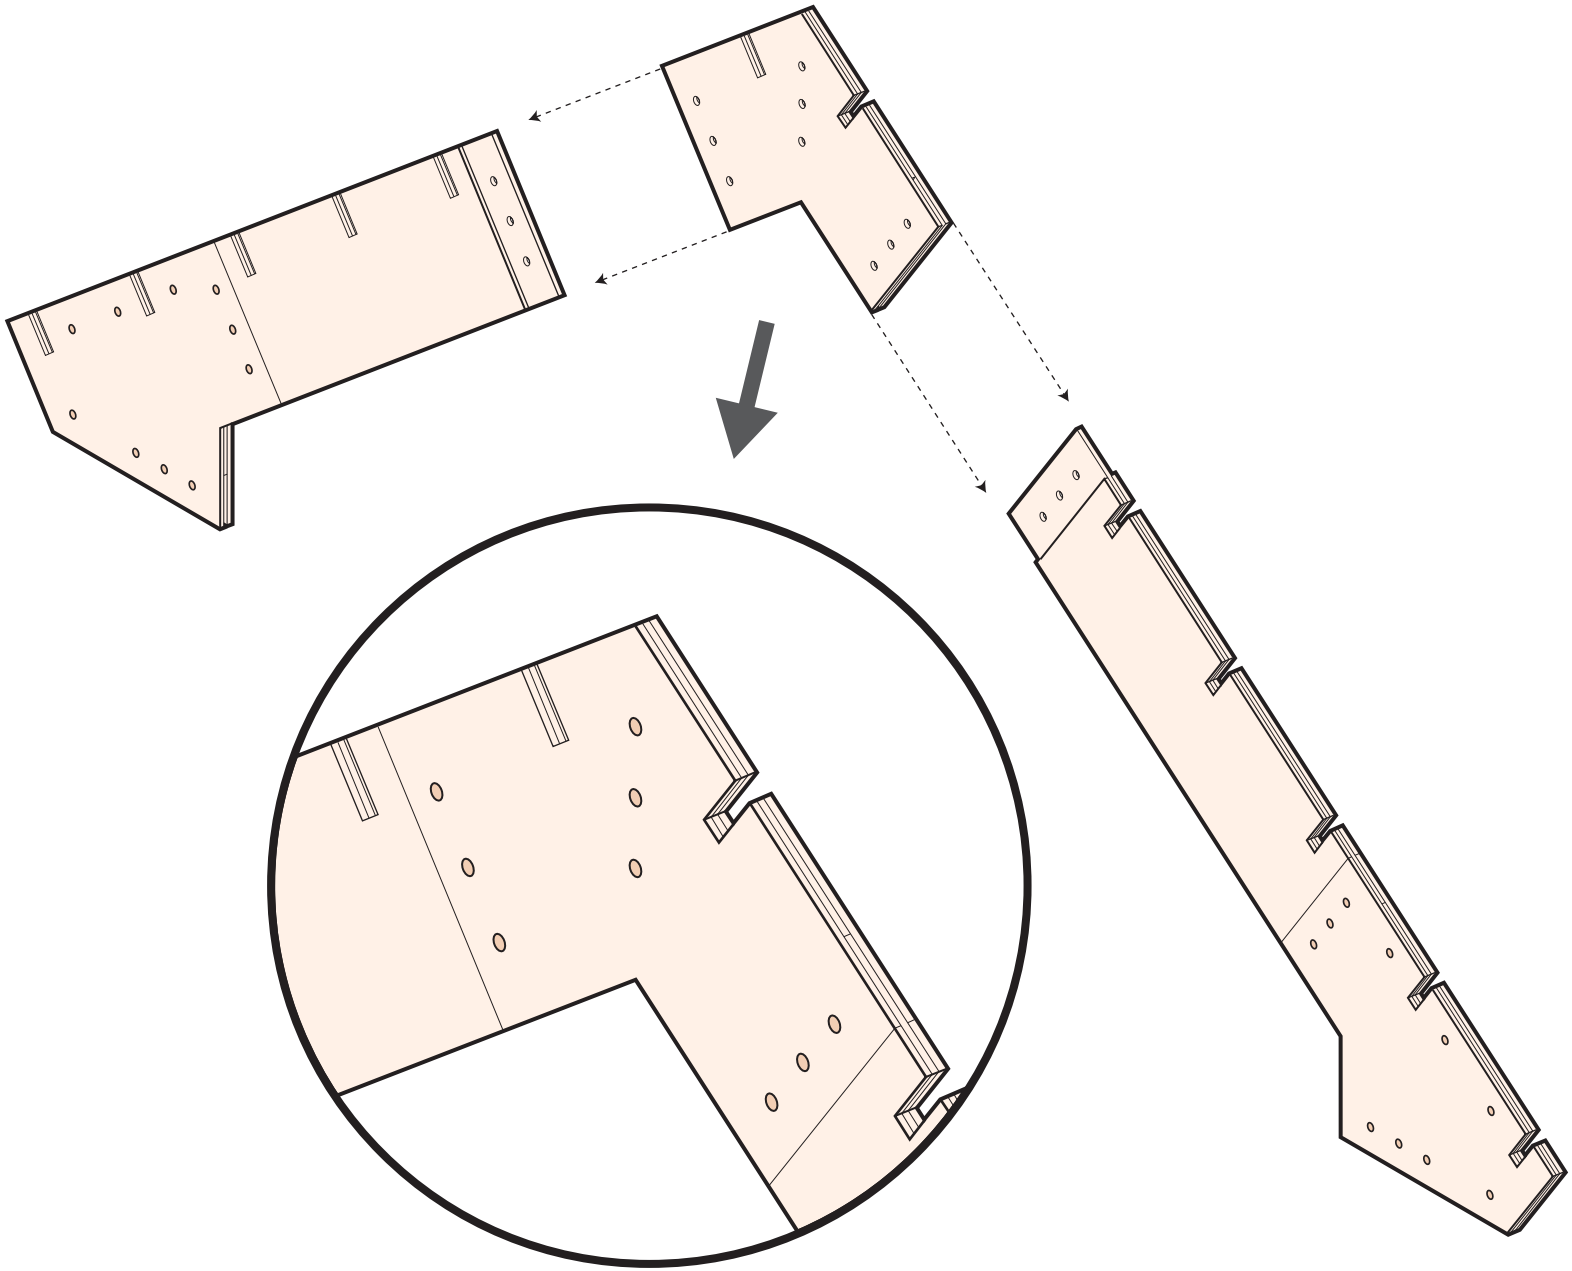

Remove the screws from the MPP panels, releasing them from the beams
2-3 people, 2-3 drills

6.

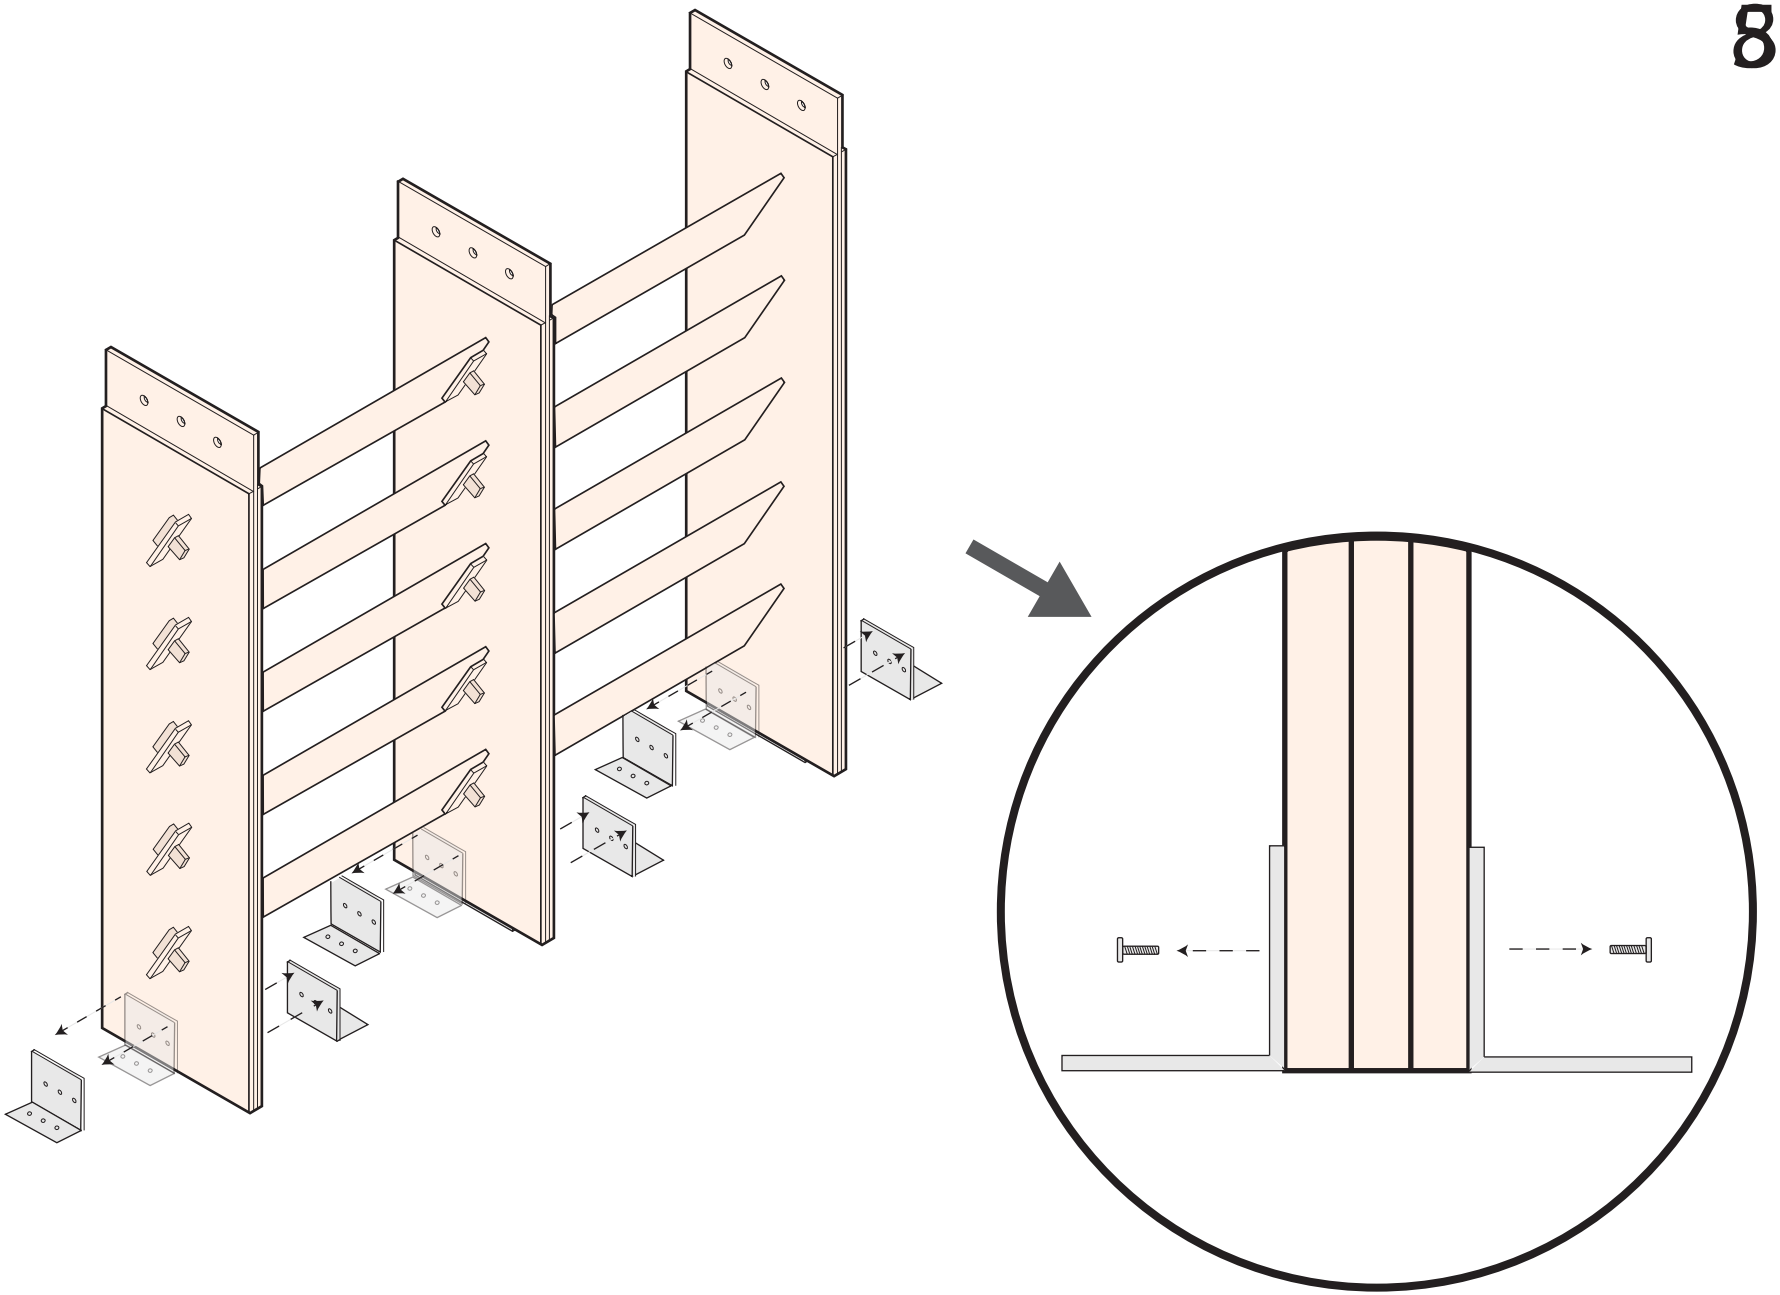

Remove the MPP panels from the beams
4 people per panel

7.

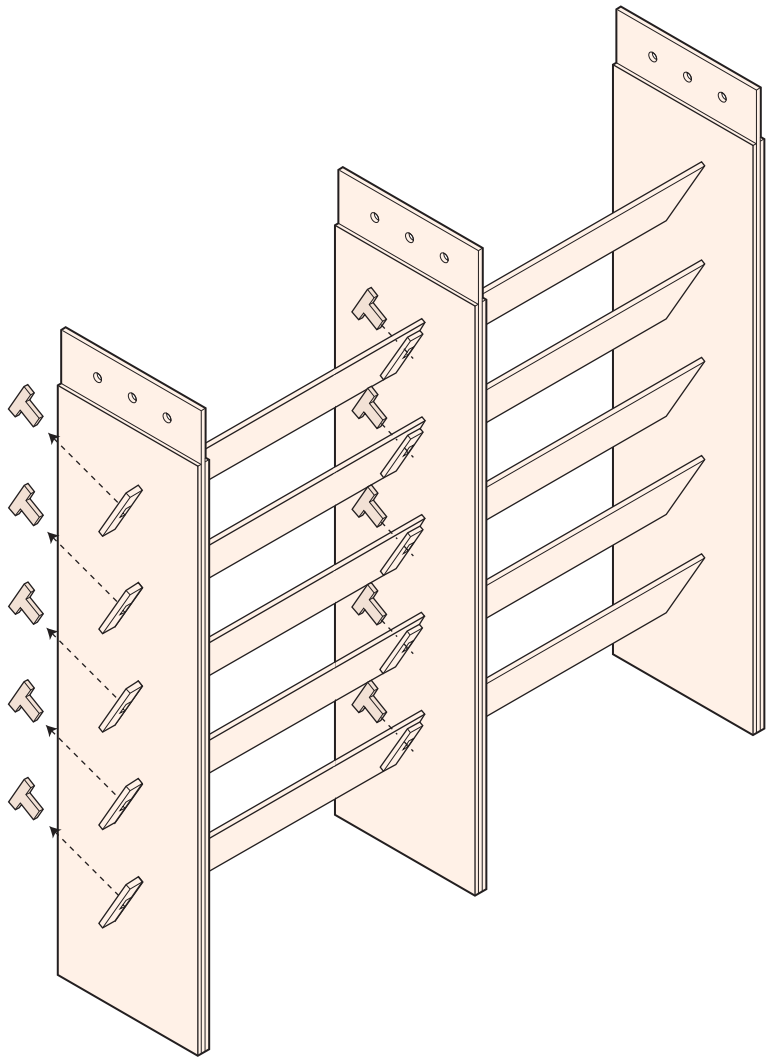

Using rubber mallets, knock out the dowels holding the pieces together and deconstruct the arch while on the ground
2 people, 2 rubber mallets

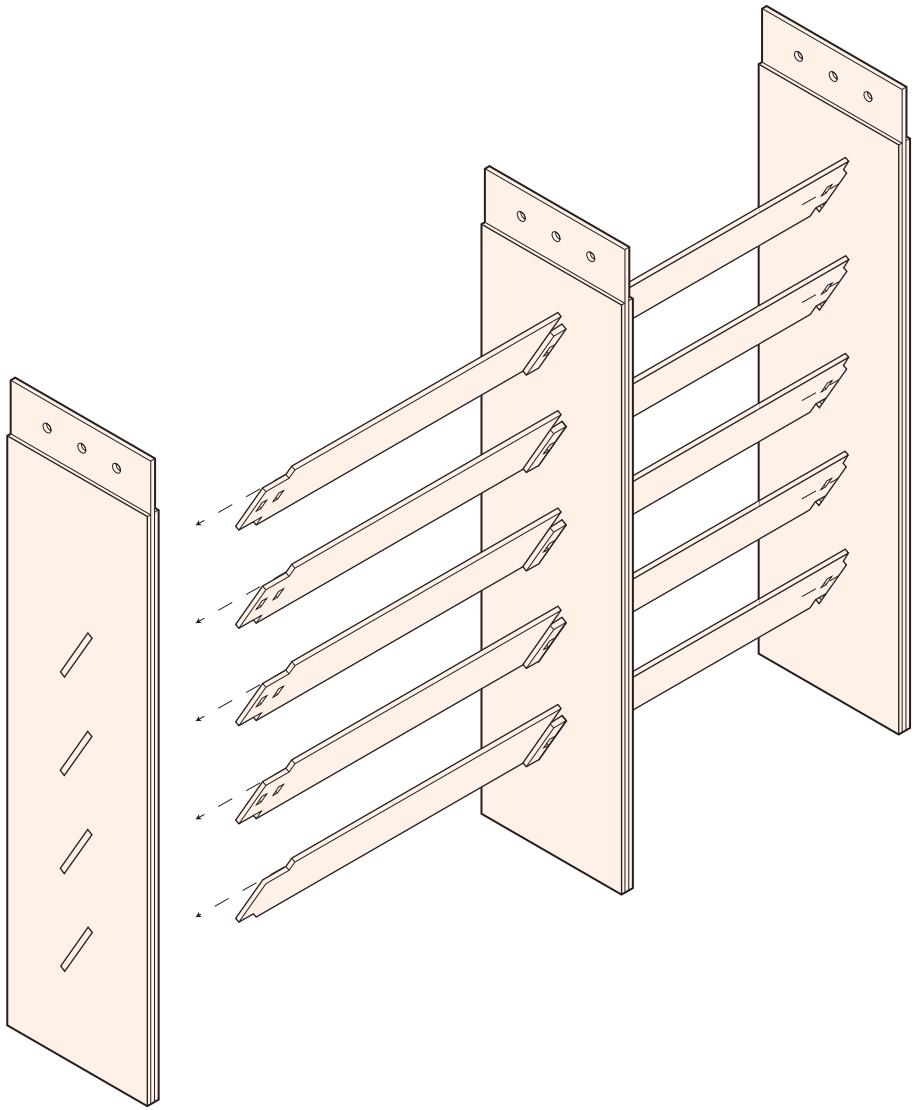

8.

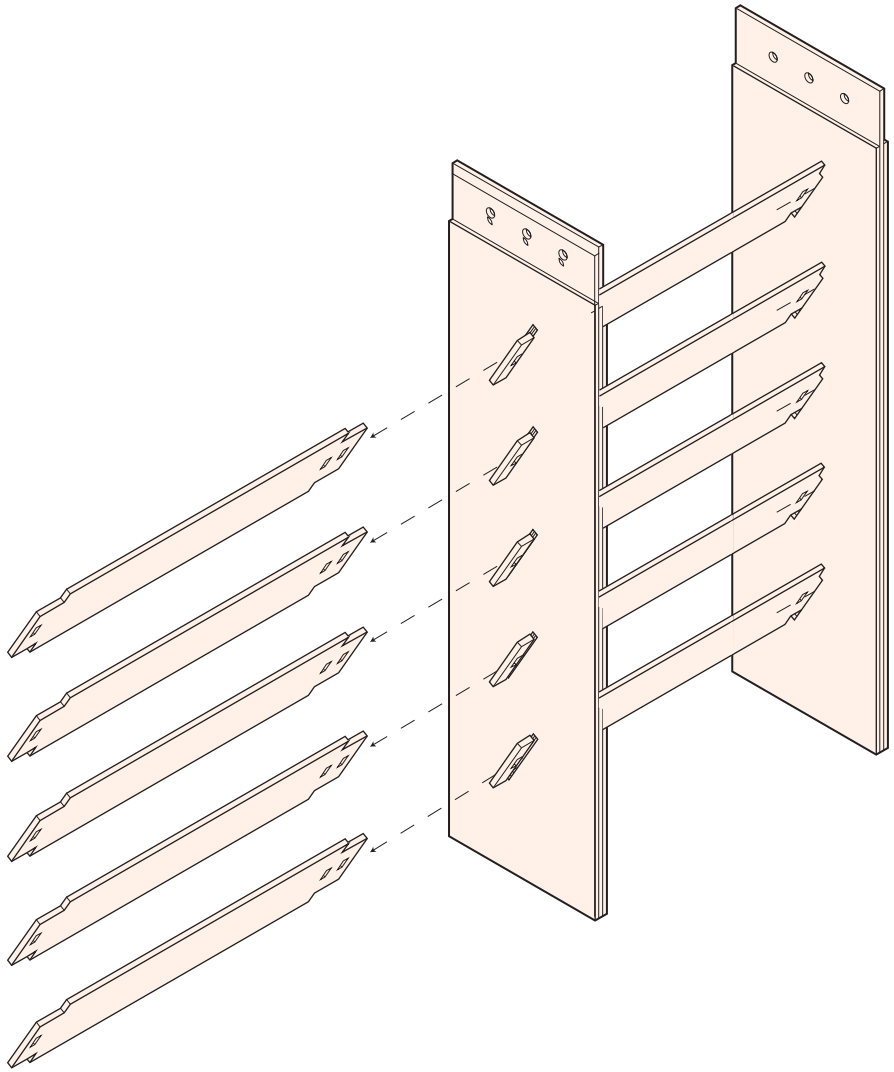

Remove the screws holding the brackets on the columns, then remove the brackets
2 people, 2 drills

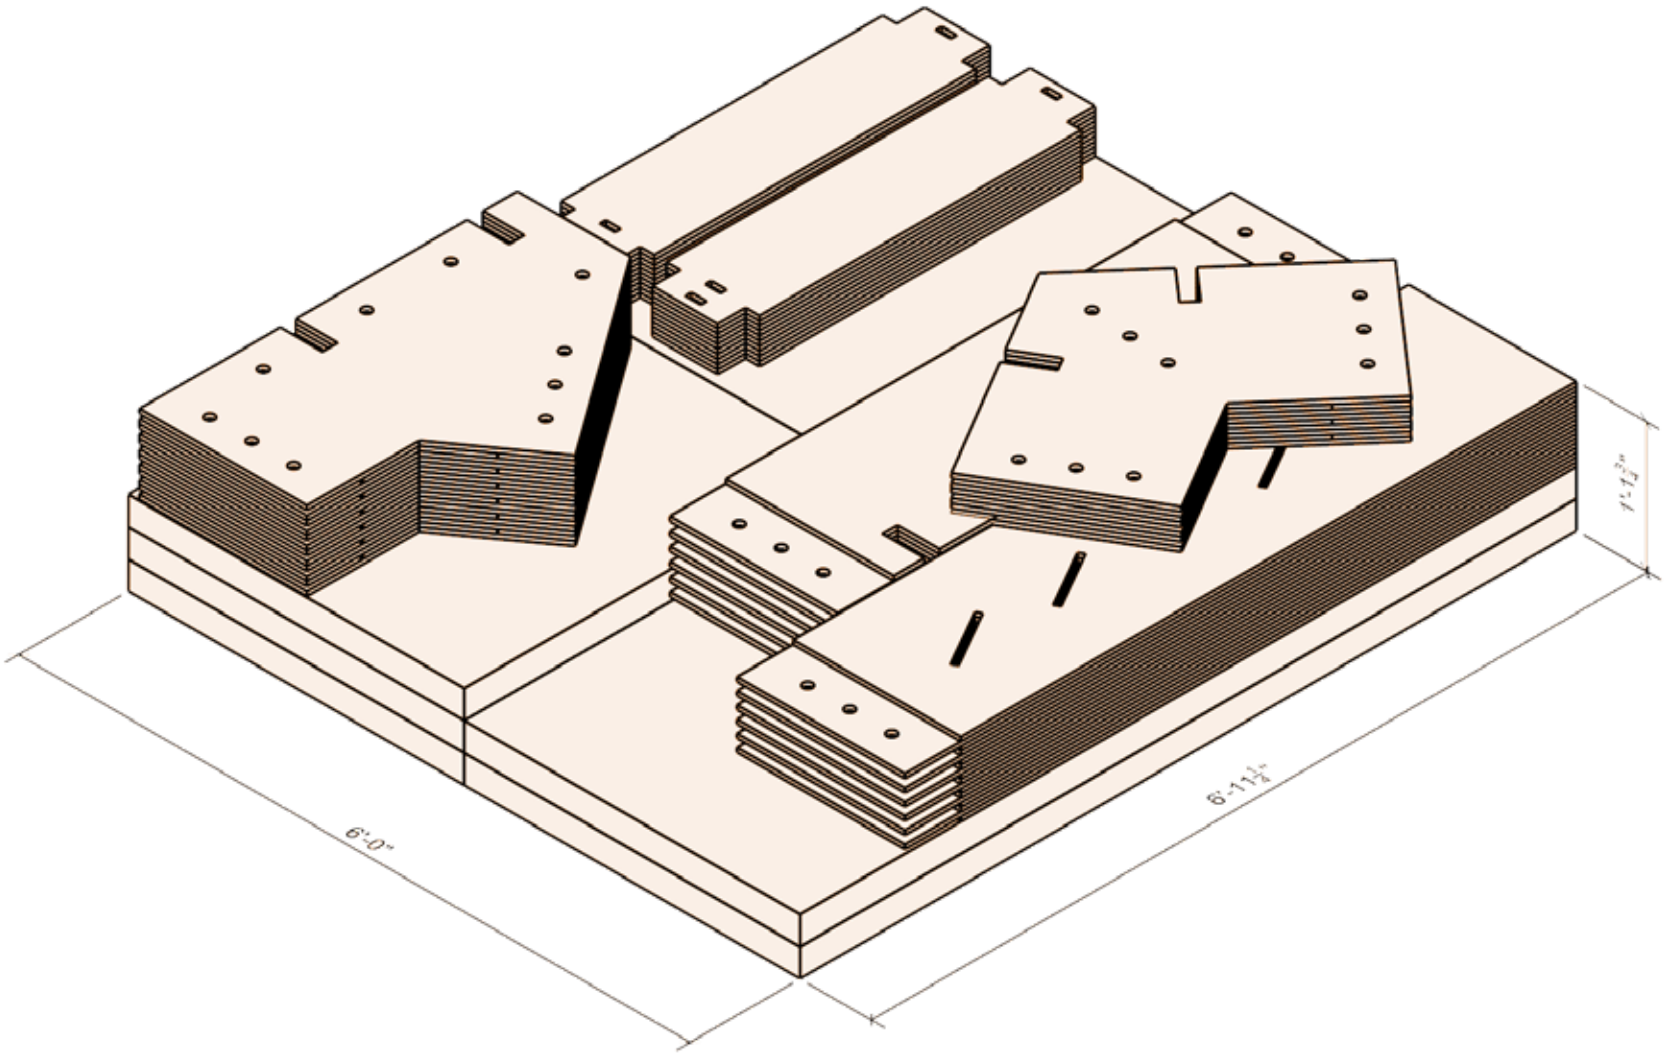

Remove the T-Pins
1 person

Slide the column off of the panels
2 people

Slide the panels off the the column
2-3 people

Stack the pieces for storage